

THE FALL GUY

Who Will It Be?

By: Jenny Miller
April 20, 2011

Mineral Council Mtg.

The Mineral Council met this morning. Andrew Yates made a Motion to rescind Resolution 2-17 to financially support the Shareholder (Jech) Lawsuit.

Galen Crum Seconded the Motion. Other Council members voting to rescind the resolution were: Sonny Abbott, Melvin Core, and Myron Red Eagle.

Apparently Myron Red Eagle found the demise of the resolution so comical that he was unable to control himself by openly laughing when the Resolution was rescinded.

So:

Andrew Yates

Galen Crum

Melvin Core

Sonny Abbott

Myron Red Eagle

all voted to rescind payment to support the Shareholder Lawsuit.

Cynthia Boone and Curtis Bear voted NOT to rescind the Resolution and Dudley Whitehorn Abstained as he is a litigant in the Lawsuit.

What They've Done

These five Council members have just sealed their fate to the extent that there is no return.

Prior to today's vote to rescind the financial support the Council Members have had their attention called to facts regarding their duty to uphold the 1906 Act resulting in the protection and best interest of their constituency, the Osage Shareholders.

Because a wealth of information has been provided to the Council regarding the ruthless and cunning practices of Wilson Pipestem and his IETAN schemes; they have lost any hope of being considered victims of these illegal acts and placed themselves as a part of the IETAN Team.

Voting to not make every effort to protect the Mineral Trust was clear defiance of their duties according to the 1906 Act and indicates a conscious effort to willingly support the Hostile Takeover of the Mineral Estate.

Anytime corruption of this level (which is a level way higher than any of these Council members have any business dealing in), there is a "Fall Guy."

The big guys orchestrating acts of corruption are smart enough and cunning enough to dig in so far behind the lines they escape being accused. It is always the little guy who serves the time. Rest assured, Yates, Abbott, Core, Red Eagle and Crum have proven today just how "little" they are.

Attached are some excerpts from the Osage Nation Constitution pointing out that at the end of the day, the Mineral Council is expected to uphold all federal rules and regulations and to uphold the 1906 Act. Though the Constitution is cluttered with the inevitable mask of including upholding it as well, it makes no difference because federal law trumps Osage Law hands down.

It's safe to say these 5 fellows have just messed in their own nest!