

Hello Again!

What a week! I must say, to subject yourself to this arena is definitely a challenge. Anyone who survives until the election will be a tough old bird that's for sure! Of course, best I can tell, I'm the only one out there giving it a go. That must mean I really haven't seen anything yet. Oh goody.....

Challenge #1

I decided to test the new "free press" this week. I sent a write up and my photograph to the Osage News, Interim Editor, Shannon Shaw. Thinking of course that my announcement as a political candidate was news worthy; I inquired about purchasing an advertisement.

I received a response from Ms. Shaw indicating she was planning to interview the candidates and therefore, she interviewed me over the telephone. I have attached documents with regard to the outcome of the interview. These attachments are really quite interesting and will give you a clear indication of just how this "free press" works.

One issue that disturbed me most of all and trust me, there were many, was the fact that Ms. Shaw actually believed that the 1906 Act no longer existed. Her question went something like this: Why would you want to return the Minerals Estate back to the 1906 Act which is dead.

In the attachments, you'll find my answer to her question along with very clear, accurate and documented facts from the U.S. Senate, Legislature and the notorious HR 2912 and P.L. 108-431.

Why these people insist that the 1906 Act is dead is beyond me. I'm sure you have heard statements such as these yourselves. This is the main reason for my writing this newsletter. Don't believe that nonsense. You have at your disposal right now the clear facts. Make the determination yourselves so you'll be confident in knowing that this claim is false. This is nothing more than an agenda ridden falsehood with the idea that we, the people won't read or comprehend what we read!

Challenge #2

"Free Press" continues: After surviving the interview, we finally got to the subject of my purchasing an advertisement. Ms. Shaw provided me with a price list. I chose a 1/2 page, color advertisement. The next day, I received a note telling me I couldn't purchase a 1/2 page ad that I was only allowed to purchase a 1/4 page add and it would have to be in black and white and it would cost $250.00 AND I would have to design the ad myself or have someone else do it because they wouldn't.

The price list I received the day before states that a 1/4 page ad would cost $230.00 so as you can see; I experienced a $20.00 price hike in a matter of one day.

So, I have a deadline of June 8, 2009. I will meet this deadline and I will pay $250.00 for the advertisement.

I would hope that you folks out there will savor the ad should it actually be put in the June edition of the Osage News. After all, it's a bit pricy considering I'll be designing it myself or paying someone else to do it! Do you suppose it will be placed in a good spot or will we have to hunt for it?

Challenge #3

Sugar Loaf Mound, St. Louis, Missouri, price tag $250,000.00. According to a report from Raymond Red Corn, someone has managed to produce a petition to the Osage Nation Congress with 70 names on it. These 70 are in favor of purchasing this piece of property.

Red Corn seems to think this petition is a viable concern and that Congress may actually pay attention to what the people want – even a number as small as 70. I can only hope this is the case. What a wonderful precedent this would set for us!

Rest assured if Congress doles out $250,000.00 for a piece of property we have no factual evidence on insofar as it having been built by the ancient Osage; all due to 70 constituents being in favor of it; load your ink pens people! I'm coming to see you with all kinds of petitions!

We'll start with: Uphold ARTICLE XII – REMOVAL, Section 1 of the Osage Nation Constitution. Grounds for removal: All elected and appointed officers of the Osage Nation shall be subject to removal from office for cause, including but not limited to willful neglect of duty, etc., etc.....

- Failure to nominate an election board (going on 4th month of failure to appoint)
- Failure to following Competitive Bidding Law
- Failure to satisfy non-compliance report to Housing & Urban Development

- Failure to satisfy recommendation by HUD to hire an Independent Auditor
- AND on and on and on.....

My second petition would be to pass legislation for a Constitutional Convention and have it added to the Constitution. As it is now, there is no mention of such an option in the Constitution. Anyone surprised?

Goodness, if we could pull these two off, we would be well on our way to a sane government. I can only imagine.

Well, I hope this letter has been insightful for you.

Please remember to share with those who don't have computers. Call me if you need me and be safe!
