PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS!

As usual and not to be unexpected, the problems of the Nation are growing and presenting themselves more swiftly as we approach the end of the elected officials' terms.

LAWSUITS ABOUND!

Sadly enough, I have attached two new lawsuits filed by the chief. Both are directed at the Congress for overriding his untimely veto and for meeting on appropriation matters. This should cost us plenty.

An article from the Bigheart Times is also attached regarding Bill Leonhart's lawsuit directed at the Osage Nation. By the time the fallout from this explosion takes place, we're most likely looking at major losses that could perhaps include the closing of casinos.

Gray's defiance of federal, State and Osage law will most likely catch up with us all at once on this deal while he continues to spend millions of our dollars fighting the Oklahoma Tax Commission.

All of this is going to end up riding on whether the Osage Reservation still consists of 1.5 million acres of which it DOES NOT. He continues to spend our money to the tune of millions on this matter, while I'm telling you today for free!

CATCH UP WORK

In order to catch up after my stay in the city, I listened to all of the Congressional Sessions upon my return.

Atterberry read the same speech two days in a row and I'll miss my guess if it wasn't written by Gray himself.

Red Corn on the other hand is dead set on getting his hands on ALL income including the Tax Commission and interest income of the nation in order to meet Gray's needs.

Last but not least, there is Shannon Edwards. What can one say? Her biggest concern is having to show up and I'm guessing her second concern is getting orders from Gray prior to making it to session on time - this tight schedule is causing her major concerns. So much so that she is coming across CROSS!

If it is your desire to listen to the archives of these Congressional Sessions you may do so by clicking: <http://www.osagetribe.com/congress/>. And then click on:

Be aware that the condescending manner in which Atterberry, Red Corn and Edwards speak to the other Congress members is appalling to say the least. Today's session is not a good example - the most informative are the last few days of session not including today.

STILL WAITING ON JUDICIAL

The Judicial Branch still hasn't come up with a decision on the Independent News case.

Last I heard the decision had been made and was being prepared.

No word on the Corbin Case either but after hearing the decision to grant the Motion to Quash last month, I can only guess they will rule in favor of the Chief.

This is a very disturbing situation and one that ensures continued tyranny.

POSITIVE NOTE

I had a very good experience at the Capitol this last week. The opportunity to subject myself to legislative procedure will be another asset in my endeavor for positive change and progress for the Osage. I am very grateful to have had this opportunity and have attached an article on this matter for your review.

Be sure to look at the pictures attached – Native American Ballerinas and the signing of the Osage Treaty are available in the attachments.

Our capitol is beautiful. If you haven't been there, add it to your list of things to do.
