Be it enacted by the Congress of the Osage Nation:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE

This Act may be cited as the "Special Litigation Appropriation Bill."

SECTION 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSE

A. The Osage Nation Congress finds that:

The Osage Nation filed suit against the State of Oklahoma in federal court in 2001, seeking declaratory judgment that the Osage Reservation is the Indian Country of the Osage Nation and an injunction against Oklahoma Tax Commissioners from imposing and collecting tax from the income of Osage members who both reside and earn income from sources within the Osage Reservation;
2. "Indian Country" is statutorily defined as: (a) all land located within an Indian reservation, including land held in fee and not limited to land owned by the tribe or tribal members; (b) all dependent Indian communities; (c) Indian allotments; and (d) land held in trust by the federal government for the benefit of the tribe or tribal members. 18 U.S.C.A. §1151 (2000);

3. Following a lengthy procedural battle, the United States Supreme Court denied the State of Oklahoma's petition for certiorari on October 6, 2008;

5. Due to the acceleration of this case, monthly Congressional briefings by the Nation's attorneys and/or the Executive Branch are necessary to track the progress of the lawsuit, which is brought on behalf of the Osage Nation.

B. The purpose of this Act is to provide an appropriation to the Executive Branch for the express purpose of litigation, to-wit, *Osage Nation v. Thomas E.
